Whilst we would look to support the provisions within this policy, we note the distinct lack of any reference to the Dorset and East Devon Coast World Heritage Site, otherwise known as the Jurassic Coast. The World Heritage Site covers 95 miles of coastline and incorporates the entire area from the top of the Fleet shore cliffs, across the Fleet itself and on down to the mean low water mark on the seaward side of Chesil Beach. The designation is based on internationally important geological, palaeontological and geomorphological features that are considered to be of Outstanding Universal Value. Within the National Planning Policy Framework World Heritage Sites are considered as Designated Heritage Assets and are provided the highest level of protection. World Heritage Sites also function as an international designation and represent the commitment of the UK government to the protection of the World's Heritage through the World Heritage Convention. The Jurassic Coast is described as a natural world heritage site, as its features of interest are based in the natural world, rather than being human-made / culturally derived. The protection and conservation of World Heritage Sites involves the preservation of the features of interest within the Site boundary and also the Site's setting i.e. the surrounding area. For further information please refer to the Jurassic Coast Partnership Plan 2020-2025, available online at www.jurassiccoast.org We recommend that the Chickerell Neighbourhood Plan be amended to include information about the the World Heritage Site and its conservation needs in all relevant sections, but most especially in policy CNP 9. We also recommend that wider geological interests around Chickerell be reviewed, especially the Local Geological Site of Crookhill Brick pit and the use of local stone in preferred building design / landscape character. For more information on Local Geological Sites refer to dorsetrigs.org
